Tutoring Experience

I've spent the past 8 years working with students from a wide range of international curricula, primarily focusing on IB and A-Level Physics. I've had the privilege of tutoring students from Hong Kong, the UK, and the US, guiding them through challenging physics topics and helping them succeed in exams.

I have also helped students prepare for university entrance exams, including the SAT and AP Physics, ensuring they build strong analytical skills. My experience has allowed me to understand the specific needs of students from different academic backgrounds and tailor lessons to help them excel in their studies.
