Tutoring Experience

For the past 14 years, I have tutored students across IB, A-Level, and IGCSE Physics. My experience spans working with students from different regions, ensuring they grasp the concepts clearly and are well-prepared for exams. I focus on helping students build a deep understanding of physics, resulting in excellent academic achievements.

Additionally, I have mentored students preparing for university entrance exams and competitive tests. Many of my students have successfully secured places at top universities globally, thanks to my tailored approach in helping them navigate complex physics topics with confidence.
